Did you know...

... that government support to producers stood at USD 227 billion in OECD countries in 2010, a record low linked to higher commodity prices?
Did you know...

… that the UN Millenium Development Goals – measurable targets for development – were inspired by the 1996 OECD Strategy paper Shaping the 21st century?
Did you know…

… that the OECD provides systematic macroeconomic and structural analyses and recommendations for 40 countries?
Did you know...

… that 46% of today’s women and 31% of today’s men in OECD countries will complete university-level education during their lifetimes?
Did you know...

... that part-time work accounts for almost 17% of all employment in OECD countries and that 70% of part-timers are women?
Did you know...

... that by 2030, the world will need 60% more energy and that two-thirds of the extra demand will come from developing countries?
Did you know…

…that almost four billion people will live in water-stressed river basins by 2050 if better policies are not introduced?
Did you know...

... that there have been 290 criminal sanctions for the bribery of foreign public officials since the OECD Anti-Bribery Convention entered into force in 1999?
Did you know…

… that government expenditures represented 46% of GDP across OECD member countries in 2009?
Did you know...

... that over the last decade R&D spending in the service sector grew four times faster than in manufacturing?
Did you know...

... that nuclear energy has helped offset 65 gigatonnes of CO$_2$ emissions between 1971 and 2007?
Did you know...

…that OECD guidelines on consumer protection create the trust needed to make e-commerce possible?
SOCIAL ISSUES, MIGRATION AND HEALTH

www.oecd-ilibrary.org/socialissues
Did you know...

... that women are as educated as men but earn 17% less in OECD countries?
Did you know...

… that OECD Model Tax Convention is the basis for over 3,000 bilateral tax treaties in force around the world and the main means for avoiding double taxation?
Did you know...

… that if G20 economies reduced tariffs and other trade barriers by 50% they could create an extra 0.1% to 4% jobs for skilled and lower-skilled workers?
Did you know...

...that transport accounts for 23% of global \( \text{CO}_2 \) emissions from fuel combustion?
Did you know…

… that, on average, 64% of public investment in OECD countries is undertaken by subnational governments?